- e. Non-employee union representatives who enter the campus for the purpose of union solicitation or literature distribution must notify the Human Resources Office of their presence on campus.
- f. Union solicitation and literature distribution must be conducted at a time and place and in a manner which does not obstruct pedestrian or vehicular traffic, cause littering, or otherwise interfere with University operations. Permission to conduct union solicitation and literature distribution may be denied by an authorized person when the distribution interferes with University operations.
- g. Union solicitation and literature distribution by employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement shall be governed by the terms of that agreement.
